THE TWIN LUNCH

This cafe was first started by Harris and Mary Bethers. They purchased the ground from Jesse Bond who was in California.

The Bethers built three cabins and a service station in the complex. Mr. Harry McCoard brought gasoline from Provo.

Harris and Mary ran the cafe and station and cabins for about five years, then Mary became ill.

Harold and Reed Bethers then leased it and ran it for some time. They employed Alpheus Mitchell Gray as their meat cutter. He had been butcher for Buell's Grocery Store before that time. Mr. Gray then left the Twin Lunch to go to work at the mines in the 1940s.

Next a real estate man, Finley Briggs purchased the property from Harris and Mary Bethers.

Later, Joseph Van Wagoner purchased this cafe and cabins. He moved the cabins away and improved the cafe.
